

Stronger 2020

Rising Up in New Levels of Grace!

As we stand on the threshold of a new decade – God is decisively and directly calling us to live stronger! This year is going to be different! The era of walking in our own abilities and capabilities has come to a close. It is a strategic time to declare an end to this past season and all that was unfulfilled. God's promises are truly yes and amen and we are entering a new era of fulfillment and manifestation.

It is time to walk in His strength and ability! We must be stronger! Not in a physical sense, although that will come, but stronger from an inner sense. We must be stronger in our commitments and stronger in our in our witness. Boldness will mark this season as fresh confidence manifests as we align with God's purposes in our daily lives. We have lived in a fraction of what is available to us. God is calling us to rise up into new levels of His grace and realizing and releasing His promises.

Where we have lived in a society that blurs the lines and dilutes truth and doctrine; we must live stronger in Truth! There must be a rising up in truth and a declaring of the unadulterated gospel of Jesus Christ. This will be a year of stronger impact and effectiveness. Increased fruitfulness will mark our efforts and God's pleasure will be known to us in an increased way.

Ultimately our strength comes from Him! This year will be marked by a greater connectedness both to the Lord and each other. Great strength will come from this and a greater expression of His love through Body ministry will be realized. There will come a great strengthening in this both individually and collectively.

We are being called to carry a stronger and more accurate vision and purpose. We must be more directed into the plans of God than ever before. As we purpose to live with intentionality, we will move into a great season of accomplishment and attainment. As we grow stronger in our true identity in Christ we will live out our destiny in fuller measures.

God is calling us to be stronger in love and He is actively directing our hearts into the love of God. Deep levels of healing are being released and out of the wells of salvation will flow great mercy and compassion. The brokenness that we are seeing will compel us to carry the healing that so many are crying out for. Hope will be the banner over the Body of Christ this year. As we allow it, this hope will be a calling card and will dissolve the image of hypocrisy, criticism and judgementalism that has marked the church for so long.

There must be a revival of the Word! We must carry a fresh honor and reverence for the Words that have come out of the heart of God! The Holy Spirit is releasing an impartation for increased hunger which will draw us into extended time in the Word, fresh revelation, and deeper understanding of familiar passages. Passion for God's Word and His heart will replace the passivity of this past season and the Body will carry a fresh fire igniting organic evangelism expressed in our lives through our relationships and social engagements.

We will grow stronger through joy and as we live in the expression of His love and our lives will be lived out in the fullness of what He desires for us to be. Greater and greater clarity will be ours through this transformation.
